"Human activity is causing rapid changes to our global climate that are contributing to extreme weather conditions" – Earth Justice

Weathering the Storm

A recent article by Nomhle Ngwenya in News 24 explains how severe weather conditions as a result of climate change has become not only a social risk but also an enormous financial risk for our country and economy.

We have all been exposed to the extreme weather conditions in recent weeks. Thunderstorms, floods, snow and windstorms have caused significant damage in various parts of South Africa.

R10 million rand in relief was recently spent by Gift of the Givers in the Western Cape alone.

We would like to take this opportunity to provide you with some tips on how to drive safely in severe weather conditions.

WOMEN'S MONTH

Do you really know the value of your personal possessions?

If you are anything like me, you probably carry your entire life in your handbag...

I recently came across an article in the FA News where it was found that about 90% of women, especially women in the high net worth market, undervalue the cost of their personal possessions.

These include items such as clothing, shoes, jewellery, mobile phone, laptop, make-up, handbags and many more.

We also do not realise that the replacement value of an item bought a few years ago is significantly higher today.

In the unfortunate event that you should lose or damage these items, you want the security that you enjoy adequate cover to replace your valuable possessions.

You also want the peace of mind that no matter where in the world you may find yourself, you still enjoy comprehensive cover.

Please speak to any of our expert team members should you have any questions regarding your cover.
